SPECIAL NOTICES.

Such is dyspepsia. The atomach and the brain are too intimately allied for the one to suffer without the other, so that dyspepsia and despondency are inseparable. It may be added, too, that irritation of the stomach is almost invabe added, too, that Irritation of the stomach is almost inva-riably accompanied by irritation of the temper.

The invigorating and tranquilizing operation of Hostet-ber's Bitters is most powerfully developed in cases of indi-gestion. The first effect of this agreeable tonic, is comfort-ing and encouraging. A mild glow prevades the system, the chronic measuress in the region of the stomach is le-sened, and the nervous restlessness which characterizes the disease is abuted. This improvement is not transient, it is not succeeded by the return of the old symptoms with super-added force, as is always the case when unmedicated super added force, as is always the case when unmedicated stimulants are given for the complaint. Each desc seems to impart a permanent accession of healthful invigoration. But this is not all. The aparient and actibilities properties of the preparation are scarcely secondary in importance to its tonic virtues. If there is an outflowing of bile, the secie tion is seen brought within proper limits, and if the biliary organ is inert and torpid it is toned and regulated. The of ect upon the discharging organs is equally salutary, and is over upon the encharging organs is equally solutary, and in cases of constipation the cathartic action is just sufficient to produce the desired result gradually and without pelu. The litters also produce healthy evaporation from the sur-face, which is particularly desirable at this senson, when and, which is particularly destraine at this senson, when sudden spells of raw, unpleasant weather are upt to check the natural perspiration and produce connection of the liver, coughs, and colds. The best safeguard against all diseases is bodily vigor, and this the great Vegetable Restorative especially produces.

Old prejudices are dying out. New facts are killing them. The idea that invalids, weakened by disease, can be relieved by prostrating them with destructive drugs, is no longer entertained except by monomanism. Ever since the introduction of Da.
